SPIRITIST STUDY GROUP OF BRIGHTON & HOVE

JOIN US IN A CHAIN OF LIGHT AND HEALING

The Spiritist Study Group of Brighton & Hove invites you to join us in a Chain of Light and Healing.

In a world that longs for hope, peace, and renewal, we gather—every evening, across borders, across time zones—to unite our hearts and souls in prayer.

We are the Joanna de Ângelis Family, a chain of Spiritist centres from Europe and the UK, coming together daily in a continuous stream of vibrations, and healing, embracing the power of collective prayer to illuminate our world.

For nearly a year, this movement has been growing, strengthening, and becoming a refuge of love and healing for all who seek it.

As Joanna de Ângelis teaches, prayer is not only a sacred act of connection with the Divine, but also an opportunity to transform ourselves and serve the world. Each prayer, each vibration we send, is an act of love, reaching those in suffering, uplifting spirits, and helping to heal the pains of humanity.

This is more than just a meeting. It is a moment where we become light for one another. A moment where, no matter where we are, we join hands—virtually, spiritually, truly—to send out love, strength, and peace.

We invite you to be part of this chain of light. Whether you come once, often, or make it part of your daily life, know that your presence matters. Each heart that joins us makes our prayer stronger. Each soul that vibrates with love adds to the healing energy embracing our planet.

Find us every evening, at different times and Zoom addresses, as our Spiritist centres take turns leading this sacred mission. Together, let us build a better world, one prayer at a time.

You are welcome. You are needed. You are loved. Join our WhatsApp group! Let's pray together, sending healing, love, and light to the world. Everyone is welcome!

MEDIUMSHIP - THE ART OF THE IMMORTALITY OF THE SOUL

Dear friends, readers of our BUSS Newsletter, and members of our Spiritist Groups in the UK.

As many of you were able to attend, and with several Spiritist groups from different counties acting as hosts, I must confess that these were truly remarkable days—filled with moments of glory, reflection, transformation, and a renewed commitment to our spiritual journey. We had the profound privilege of witnessing several sessions of psychic pictography mediumship, an experience that touched the hearts of many.

The nature of Florêncio Anton's Spiritist exhibitions—his lectures and demonstrations of mediumistic painting—often attracts a diverse audience. Some arrive as skeptics, others out of curiosity, and many with an overwhelming need for comfort amidst life's struggles, seeking solace for their aching souls. After these deeply respected and serious mediumistic sessions, numerous attendees approach us or Spiritist leaders, eager to learn more about Spiritism, mediumship, and the spirituality that permeates our lives.

I have personally witnessed the immense charity embodied in this work—helping those suffering from spiritual poverty, even when they may possess material wealth. It is truly humbling to see individuals, despite having financial security, deeply moved by the spiritual revelations they receive.

For many, the moment of seeing their departed loved ones portrayed in a painting—captured in mere minutes with expressions full of affection and familiarity—brings undeniable proof of the soul's immortality. These artistic manifestations provide reassurance that our loved ones continue to exist in the spiritual realm, capable of communicating and offering comfort. Over the years, we have witnessed numerous non-believers transform into admirers of Spiritism, eager to deepen their understanding and explore its teachings further.

Florêncio Anton's commitment to this sacred mission predates his physical birth—an obligation he joyfully fulfills with his vibrant spirit and unwavering dedication to the work of the Spirits. His mediumistic gifts are guided by the disincarnate spirit Renoir, who coordinates this extraordinary endeavour. Those interested in learning more about Florêncio's spiritual journey—his role as the founder of the Scheilla Spiritist Group and the Maria de Nazaré Spiritist Community—will gain a deeper appreciation of mediumship as a sacred service to Jesus.

Beyond his spiritual work, Florêncio is also a dedicated academic and professional. As a professor at the University of Bahia and a humanist psychologist with an extensive list of clients, he now brings us the joyful news that in three years he will earn his Doctorate in Psychiatry. This accomplishment further strengthens the bridge between medicine and spirituality, reinforcing the holistic approach to healing.

It is inspiring to know that all proceeds from the mediumistic paintings are directed exclusively to charitable causes, benefiting the Maria de Nazaré Community and, on occasion, other organizations, such as the Multiirão Institute in Curitiba.

Sunday's lecture at the Fraternity Spiritist Society in London deeply moved me, prompting personal reflections that led to significant inner change. Despite being a long-time Spiritist, I found healing for a lingering pain of the soul—a testament to the transformative power of Spiritist teachings.

For this, we extend our heartfelt gratitude for Florêncio's presence among Spiritists and Spiritualists. His work continues to open doors to Spiritist studies and enlightenment, drawing people closer to the undeniable truth of the soul's immortality. Whether in Brazil or across distant lands, this mission of love and enlightenment remains a guiding light for all who seek spiritual understanding.
